

NICE DOGGIE....

If a dog is part of your family, everyone needs to know the correct way to interact with your lovable pet. Children need to know how to treat dogs that are pets of friends and family or that they may encounter in their neighborhood. Understanding how a dog wants to be approached and treated will help to prevent dog bites or attacks. Charlotte Mielziner, author and professional dog trainer and handler, will provide proactive tips to help children understand how to act around dogs. She is certified in Canine Behavior Modification through Perdue University School of Veterinary Medicine. She is a professional member of Pet Dog Trainers, a member of the Canine Ambassadors Association, and a member of Therapy Dog International. She is the author of Preventing Dog Bites Positively. Charlotte will bring her dog to demonstrate the correct way to respect and interact with dogs. She will answer questions that your family might have about integrating dogs into your family or introducing your dog to new members of your family! A great and positive way to educate children about how dogs need to be treated!
